S

SABATIER, Paul, b. St-Michel de Chabrillanoux, dans les Cévennes, 3 Aug. 1858. Educ.: Faculté de Théologie de Paris; devint immédiatement, 1885, vicaire de l'église St. Nicolas de Strasbourg. En 1889, le gouvernement allemand lui ayant offert une situation supérieure par laquelle il serait devenu citoyen allemand, il demanda à rester simple vicaire. Cette demande fut considérée comme une manifestation politique et il fut expulsé.

Revint dans ses montagnes natales et se fit nommer pasteur à St-Cierge, village qui depuis quinze ans était sans pasteur. Mais sa santé était ruinée et, après quatre ans d'efforts, il dut renoncer à la parole, et se consacrer entièrement aux études historiques. Publications: En 1885 avait déjà publié le texte grec de la "Didachè" accompagné d'un commentaire qui attira l'attention des spécialistes, mais c'est la "Vie de St-François" qui a rendu son nom populaire. La première édition française parut en novembre 1893. Un an plus tard avaient déjà paru des éditions en presque toutes les langues de l'Europe, même en Suédois et en Polonais. La première avait été la traduction russe faite sous la direction de Tolstoi. Quelques érudits allemands ayant contesté certains points de cette œuvre, Paul Sabatier commença alors pour les spécialistes une série de travaux destinés à montrer le travail scientifique dont la "Vie de St-François" n'était que le résultat. Delà la "Collection d'études et de documents sur l'histoire littéraire et religieuse du moyen âge," pour laquelle il fit appel à la collaboration de ses contradicteurs eux-mêmes. C'est un spectacle nouveau que cette union d'érudits de toutes nations et de tous cultes travaillant sur le même chantier qu'un Huguenot français. Le t. i., publié en 1898, a provoqué de tous côtés d'autres travaux qui deviennent chaque jour plus nombreux et plus importants. Il est intitulé, "Speculum Perfectionis seu sancti Francisci Assisiensis Legenda Antiquissima, auctore fr. Leone. Nunc primum edidit Paul Sabatier." Le t. ii. est intitulé, "Fr. Francisci Bartholi Tractatus de Indulgentia Portiunculae. Nunc primum integre edidit Paul Sabatier." Le t. iii.: "Fr. Elie de Cortone, étude biographique par le Dr. Ed. Lempp." Le t. iv.: "Actus b. Francisci et Sociorum eius. Edidit Paul Sabatier." En mai 1901, il découvrit à Capestrano, dans les Abruzzes, la "Regula Antiqua Tertii Ordinis," qui depuis des siècles avait échappé à toutes les recherches. Il en profita pour commencer les "Opuscules de Critique Historique" qui paraissent par fascicules trimestriels. Enfin vers la même époque il retrouva le texte Latin original du fameux recueil des Fioretti dont il donna deux éditions, une pour les érudits, mentionnée plus haut "Actus," etc., l'autre populaire, "Floretum S. Francisci Assisiensis. Liber aureus qui italice dicitur I Fioretti di san Francesco." Enfin en 1902 a organisé la "Société Internationale des études Franciscaines" inaugurée solennellement à Assise le 2 juin. En 1898 la Ville d'Assise par un vote unanime de son "Consiglio Comunale" lui a décerné un titre qu'elle n'avait plus conféré depuis Garibaldi, celui de "Cittadino d' onore."
